If Minions were PINK

👁 67 ✓ 8 ★ 9

Chapter 1 by Story Wars

If minions were pink, they probably like strawberries, not bananas. They will probably like to wear dresses too. If minions were Pink , would have been in barbie movies not Despicable Me. If minions were Pink people would have mistaken them as a tablet shape chewing gum ... XD ( PLS write something interesting and funny! )

Chapter 2 by SaintSayaka

I find it very funny that you're forcing gender norms onto these creatures simply because they're colored pink. Why should we care if they wear dresses, yellow or pink? Why can't they appear in a Barbie movie if they're yellow? I mean, it's Barbie. I'm sure she can find a yellow outfit that won't clash with their unique color scheme.

Straights are so weird.

Chapter 3 by Scorpio :)

It's not necessarily straights that are weird. It's just that one view that TechnoTypist had. I agree with what they mostly said.

And we'd love them that way.

Chapter 4 by Shasta

Maybe, just maybe, the story should be continued in a "interesting and funny" way and not try to degrade someone based off of a controversial topic mainly in the United States of America.

Before I do as the first chapter instructs, I'm going to comment on yours. Straights being weird is a generalization of straight people, and quite offensive. It's like purposefully misgendering someone, just because you don't agree with their beliefs.

While I agree that pink is a unisexual color, have you seen Barbie? The lead role always has pink, a/ways.

Now, nowhere in there did you see the word 'female'. You're implying it yourself. There are males in Barbie, I can assure you.

Next time, maybe read the draft? Just a suggestion to upkeep the foundation of the website :)

Now, I will be continuing the story.

If minions were pink, they would dye pools and lakes, and they would consume more strawberry lemonade than thought possible. If minions were pink, they would wear pink leather and ride motorcycles with hello Kitty stickers and pink, holographic tassels hanging from the handlebars. If minions were pink, they could inject bioluminescent and become a glow stick.

1st exclamation

As a straight male it offends me (yes you heard me right) that you find me weird, and not just me but this apparently "straight" Techno Typist. What if I said gays are weird? What if I said bi's are weird? You'd call me a dumb illiterate redneck for not knowing enough about the lgbt+

"pretty disappointing when people try to make a story of nothing into something and then other writers...ignore it. y'all have to actually read the chapters that come before. that's kind of the point of this website. thanks for coming to my ted talk"

If I might recall that was a quote from you Saint? You blatantly ignored the writer's wish of writing down something funny, isn't that breaking the foundation of this website in your words?

Learn to be a better person before you teach us how to be better writers for God's sake.
